FIRE-BUGS WARNED.

for Setting Fires. Modesto, November 27th .- A body was found hanging to a tree yesterday morning in Patterson's field, half a mile west of Investigation proved that the remains were those of a youth named Mc-Cutchan, aged about 16, and that he came to his death at the hands of a mob. Oak dale has been visited by a great many fires recently, and all of which gave the unmis-

Superior Court. LYNCHED BY A MOB. The excitement was running high in Oakdale, and it was deemed best as a pre-cautionary measure to remove the prisoner immediately to the county jail. Constable James Swatzell started out at a late hour therefore, for this city. At Patterson's field he was overtaken and overpowered by a crowd which took the culprit out of the officer's charge and hanged him to a oak tree in the field near the road.

Deceased was a brother of the boy Mc Cutchan who was convicted and sentenced to eight years' imprisonment recently for the murder of his step-brother. He has borne an unsavory reputation seldom at-tained by one so young. Before being hanged the boy confessed to setting the ten or twelve incendiary fires with which Oakdale has been visited within the past two weeks. A man named Manuel has also been arrested as an accessory of McCutchan.

TERROR ON THE RAIL. An Insane Chinaman Runs Amuck on a

Railroad Train. SALT LAKE CITY, November 27th .- The passengers on the westward-bound train of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad had an exciting experience yesterday. When thirty miles east of Grand Junction, Col., Lee Shurge a Chinaman and the Col., Lee Shung, a Chinaman, went into a compartment and locked himself in, and no efort of either the conductor or the brakemen could get him out. When the train arrived at Grand Junction it was turned over to a new crew, and the new conductor, John Corlisk, was warned of the presence of the crazy Mongol. Thirty miles west of Grand Junction Shung still held the fort, and the brake-man, James Ganning, climbed up on the box and broke in the transom to the Chinaman to come out. He did so all at once, throwing the door open, tipping the brakemen heels over head and makin a pass at him with a huge knife, which came perilously near splitting him open.

THE MURDEROUS KNIFE. The brakeman fled precipitately to anther car, and then the Chinaman began to un amuck. He struck at a lady passen ger, narrowly missing her with his knife, and then stabbed a young man named George Huckelbridge in the abdomen. By this time the car was a scene of wild excite ment and confusion, and passengers were frenzied and frightened, some screaming, some crying "Shoot him!" and others drawing their revolvers. Brakeman Gan-ning re-entered at this moment with a reolver and opened fire, others also shooting

NEVADA COUNTY FIRES. Narrow Escape of a Family from a Terrible Fate.

NEVADA CITY, November 27th. - The dwelling owned by John Toward was de-stroyed by fire at Willow valley yesterday morning, together with all the contents. The family barely escaped in their night clothes, and Toward carried his seventeenyear-old daughter out of the burning building. It is supposed that the fire started from a live coal or spark from the fireplace, in which a fire had been kindled by a member of the family, who had arisen very early and then left the house. At noon to day they returned with a verdict of not guilty. The theory of the defense was that Clark did not raise the check given him by Elle Ellen, but got it cashed and then left the country with the money. He had been instructed by Ellen o purchase a tract of land for the latter. The verdict caused much surprise, as the general opinion was that the jury would onvict or disagree.

THE MARKET PROPOSITION.

The proposition to establish a market ful prices, for the property is to be condemned by the power of eminent domain. matter goes into the realm of proof before a Court, which may call a jury to advise it. The value of the property to be taken. therefore, will depend upon proofs taken, each side making its showing. Under such procedure there can be no fanciful prices but simply honest values.

The market place is needed greatly. All prosperous cities need room for the exposure of produce, for the meeting of producer and buyer, and such a place we do not now have. To take the land suggested will give an open area where vegetables, fruit, ice, coal, wood, and hay can be brought, unloaded and readily delivered. dians will feel little interest in the matter. It will afford the needed room for properly handling and shipping fruit-a business of the highest importance to Sacramento. For want of room the trade is now much ! hindred, and as time is the essence of its referred to was laid upon Chinese importasuccess, space needed should be provided tion, but to put a check upon the immigrathat time may be saved. It will put a tion, because its evil effects were felt by market right at the doors of the depot, where incomers will view our products,

But it will work the filling of the slough, and as a health proposition that alone is worth twice or thrice the sum the improvement will cost the people. Moreover, it will break up Chinatown, and to be quit of that nuisance is worth thrice the sum to be laid out. The Chinese herd together. They will live in quarters. To ob'iterate one half of the present Chinese quarter and remove its unsightliness is to decree the removal of the whole of Chinatownthat will be inevitable.

The improvement will bring into ratepaying a new property section by reason of enhanced values, and thus taxation will decline and the burdens of municipal government be lightened and more evenly distributed. It will aid and stimulate trade, and thus augment local prosperity.

Originally the scheme was projected to condemn the north side of I street, from In truth, the Government has been the Third to Fifth, with the single idea of greatest gainer, and in equity has no footaintained there, and it was then deemed full compensation for the outlay to accomplish that end. Now that it has been proposed to fill the space and make the gains a new interest and augments in the force with which it presents itself.

We repeat, the expenditure of $50,000 for such purposes by a city of 30,000 inhabitants is a trifle in the light of the positive benefits to accrue in the way of of public health, increased trade and what should have been stated before, enlarged industries. The railway company will, it is settled, fill its lots as soon as the I-street side of the work begins, and will speedily occupy the land with enlarged works, depots and storehouses. Around this quarter will soon be located other manufacturing industries, and within a comparatively brief time the market place and its surroundings will be the busiest place in the

The more the scheme is discussed the more forcibly it presents itself. As it is a proposition to rid the city of a long and bitterly-complained of nuisance; to remove a health menace (and in case of the approach of an epidemic one that would practically condemn the whole city); to enhance trade; to furnish new and enlarged fields of labor; to advertise the city by exposure of our products to all arriving tourists; to add new values to the assessment-roll and thus diminish the tax rate; we cannot entertain any doubt about The tax levy for it is light, and it is in the nature of an investment that will bring immediate return to every propertyowner, and for the municipality it is a proposition in the direction of progress to lay the tax, because it means real economy coupled with positive advancement.

IT will be remembered that the distillers of the country have promised us three several panics since 1870, in which it was said the whole nation would go to smash, unless they were relived of a tax are now told that the only reason the about the tax was sham, for they know We are now upon the eve of another prophecy of panic, for the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue has recommended that the liquor still out on its export travels be cornered on its return and made amenable to such amendment of at San Francisco on Saturday, committees the laws as will secure return of the erport drawback. In effect, this would reverse the action of the Treasury permitting the drawback, and to that extent therefore, that the Congress about to assemble will amend the revised statutes as asked. The distillers have not strength enough to secure a repeal of the tax, but they will be able to prevent the amendment recommended, for they can make a fairly equitable claim. The Chicago Herald calls attention to the fact that the United States Attorney-General ruled, in 1883, that a shipment ont of the country, with intent to bring them back, was not with intent to bring them back, was not such exportation as to entitle the shipper of goods to the drawback. But in the face of this decision, the export with the privilege was permitted, and the Government cannot now with very good grace on behalf of the State Board of Trade, with request also to have committees named from the Merchants' Exchange and Manufacturers' Union to participate in the celebration on Yosemite Valley. Yesterday Mr. Sherwood went to Donner

A corps of surveyors have recently been General McComb came up from the Bay put in the field and Messrs. H. H. Boyce, which the overland last night authorized by Mr. Crocker to obtain righ of way from the town of Monrovia through the center of the Azusa valley to San Dimas. A line from San Dimas, which is at the head of the Azusa valley, has been arveyed to Redlands, and the head of the San Bernardino valley. The new line, so far as the surveys indicate, will run from Ramona station on the Los Angeles livision to Raymond Hotel, thence through the center of Pasadena, through Fair Oaks Huntington, Lamanda Park, Sierra Madre, Arcadia and Monrovia to Duarte. From Gabriel two miles below the Santa Fe bridge, thence running due east will strike Hadstone in the Azusa, and thence on to visit to her mother in this city, went to San Dimas. From the latter point to Redands right of way has been secured. This, however, is only one of the Southern Pa-cific's Southern California schemes. It is ot probable that the company will delay auch longer the completion of their line to an Diego, while there is also a possibility that they will occupy the Simi Pass and Bluff attorney, is in town, working on the San Fernando valley route with a corps of surveyors at a very early date. Severa roads are also projected, radiating from

GENERAL NOTICES.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little territory of the control of the co rub awakes as "bright as a button very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhosa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Yesterday Mr. Sherwood went to Donner Is does not been a hotel built in Central California to attract an excursionist; there has not been a runner on the road to inform them of our glorious region. All the luscious fruit of the past season that has been shipped East has been credited to Southern California.

I would suggest that we send a citrus exhibit to Denver, Kansas City and Chicago; send it soon, and send money to advertise to. Send good men to Omaha to work the passenger trains that are coming this way laily; send pamphlets of information, and send a column advertisement to the Los Angeles papers, and keen it before the need of the hatchery. It will be located at the head of the lake, or rather at the northwest corner, where a small stream comes down from the mountains. Here will be bred the Donner lake trout, the Truckee trout, the mountain brook trout, and the rainbow trout, which are now to be found in this vicinity. It is also proposed to run a hatchery at Webber lake if the owners of property there will be bred the morthwest corner, where a small stream comes down from the mountains. Here will be bred the Donner lake trout, and the rainbow trout, which are now to be found in this vicinity. It is also proposed to run a hatchery at Webber lake if the owners of property there will be bred the world, and also some of the Independence with the said order of sale. Hereby give notice that I will, on the 26th day of NO-SHERIFF'S SALE. -UNDER AND BY VIRTUE passenger trains that are coming this way daily; send pamphlets of information, and send a column advertisement to the Los Angeles papers, and keep it before the people there, that we have millions of acres of land in Central California that is the home of the orange, olive and raisin, as well as of every summer fruit, and that will yield a net income, when planted and in bearing, of a greater sum than the cost of the land. Stop running down your neighbor's property, and his methods, because he seems to have a chance to sell, when you would like to. Pull together and to the same purpose, and let that purpose be for success to all.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE RAILROAD SHOPS. The Largest Manufacturing Establishment West of the Missouri River. The largest machine-shop and construction works west of the Missouri river is the railroad works in this city, which now gives employment to 2,000 skilled workmen and laborers, and when the various extensions are completed, which will be inside of a year, this force will be increased to 3,000 men. An additional 1,000 workmen means the addition of 1,000 families to those already in our city, means an increase of the population at least 5,000, and necessitates the erection of 1,000 cottages. The increase of 1,000 workmen means additional stores and tradesmen of all kinds, means prosperity, internal im-provements, an advance in real estate, means a solid, permanent growth, free from all boom agencies. The railroad shops in this city are constructing and will engines can be built here for less money than in the East, and to-day the work national reputation. Orders have been re-ceived for the construction of twenty-eight unfilled order for sixteen, making thirty-largely attended, many friends of the deceased being present from San Francisco. The Pioneer Association, of which Mr. Carroll was a member, attended in a body. The funeral services were conducted by Right Rev. Bishop Wingfield. The floral offerings were numerous and handsome. All the members of the family were present except one daughter, who is in Paris. Four of his brothers, Oliver, Charles, George and Jerome, were also present. A quartet composed of J. S. Graham, A. Sanborn, Elwood Bruner and R. Aurbach sang appropriate music; Mrs. Dr. Pinkham, accompanist. The pall-bearers were James Cavolan, J. F. Houghton, E. B. Beck, A. N. Towne and W. E. Brown, of San Francisco; L. B. Mizner, of Benicia; John Mc-Neill, L. A. Upson, Charles McCreary, C. W. Clark, L. Williams, T. M. Lindley, A. A. Van Voorhies, Frank Miller, Colonel James McNasser and Add C. Hickson, of Sacramento. The interment, which took place at the City Cemetery, was private.

A Curt Retort. suggestion of "A School-teacher" in your issue of last Saturday, relating to the examination of candidates for School Director, I am inclined to say that had such a contemptible expression been uttered before election to her present position, she would certainly never have graced, or rather disgraced, our public schools. To say the least that "slur" was unlady-like, and could have only emanated from a person who wants her education measured by the size of her "pull back." I may say, however that while my name has been mentioned for the position of School Director, it has been entirely without my knowledge or consent. Yours etc. F. HEILBRON.

REVIVAL MEETINGS .- The first of a series of revival meetings under the direction of A. J. Bell, a lay evangelist of Chicago, was held last evening at the Sixth-street M. E. been made at the fort to test the specimens. The full capacity of the church was tested by the congregation. Mr. Bell is a prepossessing man, a little over medium hight, stoutly built, with the presence and address of a man of affairs. In his methods he is of the Moody type of evangelist and reminds one strongly of the Rev. A. B. Earle, who held successful revival services here some years ago. His address last evening was on the importance of imme-diately turning to God for salvation, based on Isaiah lv. 5, 6. It was a plain, practical, effective talk, listened to with closest attention. After the conclusion of the regular service an after meeting was held, largely attended, and three persons professed con version. New York, November 4, 1887.

George W. Chesley, Esq., President Society of California Pioneers, Sacramento, Cal.—ESTEEMED SIR: The September number of the Overland Southly contains an extract from the diary of H. W. Bigler, in which it appears that the discovery of gold occurred at Sutter's sawmill January 24, 1848. The archives of the State of California gives the date as that of January 18, 1848, and upon that information our society acted.

On memory. It seems strange, however, that in Mr. Bigler's letter to the Bulletin he did not state the date, and that his diary should be so much at variance with the fact in regard to the condition of the weather.

I very much regret that business engagements have prevented me from making that full investigation which the importance of this subject demands, but I will I should like to have your society act upon this matter, and determine if Bigler's statement is to be relied upon. Let me have the result before the evening of our annual dinner of January 18, 1888, when the subject will be introduced. Yours truly,

FRANCIS D. CLARK,
Secretary

Very much has been published in books, magazines and newspapers concerning the circumstances attending the Marshall discovery, and in many instances they are grossly incorrect. Most of them are, of course, based upon the statements of persons who were at the time at Coloma or at Sutter's Fort, Sacra-

In the article in the Overland Monthly re-In the article in the Overland Monthly referred to there are incorporated extracts from the diary kept by Henry W. Bigler, extending from January 10, 1847, to February 14, 1848. Bigler had come into the country with the Mormon battalion in 1847, and after being mustered out of service, entered the employ of Captain John A. Sutter on September 17th of that year. With Marshall and others he went to Coloma on the 27th, and assisted in the construction of the sawmill and waterconstruction of the sawmill and water-race. The entries in his diary referring to the gold and its discovery are as follows:

I will first consider the statements of Company G's Shoot.

In the November, 1857, number of Hutchings' California Magazine appeared lengthy statements of Sutter and of Marshall of the circumstances attending the discovery. Therein Marshall said, "and about half-past 7 o'clock on or about the dismissed as it was ascertained he had a 19th of January-I am not quite certain to workingman's hand, and was accustomed a day, but it was between the 18th and 20th to labor. Marshall attended the celebration by the Native Sons in Sacramento in September 1884, and issued autograph cards, on which he had printed after his written signature, "the discoverer of gold in California, January Frazee will be sentenced to-day, having 19, 1848." The admission in the 1857 article that he is "not quite certain to a day," would indicate what was undoubtedly the A Curt Retort.

He said: "Some three or four days after this (the discovery of the gold), Marshall went down to Sutter's fort to see

I and the old Captain who propose to utilize the surplus water in locked ourselves up and were half a day trying it, and the outsiders wondered what in hell was up, and surmised that I found a quicksilver mine, but we let them sweat ' and he described in detail the account Mar-Bigler then wrote: "He then said Sutter would be up in a few days to look and examine the race. In a few evenings after-wards Marshall came into our shanty and told us that Sutter had come," etc. The narrative of Mrs. Wimmer, who was at the sawmill cooking for the men at the time of the discovery, published in the San Francisco Bulletin of December 19, 1874, is quite elaborate. She says: "They had been working the on mill-race, dam, and mill-bout six possible to the same of t mill, about six months, when one morning along the last days of December, or the first week of January, 1847-8, the discovery was made." She further stated that Sutter came up with Marshall. The Commissioners had a long interview with Senator Stanford in reference to a forestry bill heretofore introduced in Congress by Representative Markbann. This bill provides that instead of selling the timber itself shall be sold. The provisions of this bill were detailed at length in an address by Commissioner Kinney before the recent Fruit-growers' Convention in Santa Barbara.

Secretary Forman has sent out for posting over 2,000 circular signs, warning fire setters on timber and brush lands of the penalty for their offense. He has also distributed over 800 packages of Australian seeds.—S. F. Bulletin.

remember, when the end of the Central Pacific track was nearing Promontory when the Union Pacific was making prodigious exertions to stretch out its line to hat point, the Central Pacific construction forces roused themselves and laid ten miles and a few hundred feet in one working day, without resorting to artificial light, as ap pears to have been done in the case of the Manitoba road. It is proper to say that on account of the deficiency of motive power and the nature of the country traversed, it was necessary to haul a portion of the rails and ties out in advance; but when you reflect that the whole of the supplies and fuel had to be brought from the western terminus, nearly 700 miles distant across high mountains and sterile deserts, hat not a wheel could be borrowed from other roads, and even the subsistence of men and horses could not be had in the territory itself, I think you will agree that still remains the most colossal day's work in railroad building ever accomplished on this continent. Not only the time when, but the circumstances under which it was son with anything that may have been Charles Crocker had charge of the piece of work that Mr. Huntington peaks about, and some time ago sign-po were put up to mark off this particular sec tion of the road. It is said that Mr. Crocker never tires of talking on this subject

AN EXODUS FROM MAINE TO CALIFORNIA -In the decade between 1870 and 1880, says the Bangor correspondent of the New York Sun, the population of this city and in fact, all the surrounding country, was reduced to an alarming extent by the rush of emigration to the West-Minneapolis and Chicago in particular—and business received a severe check. Everybody seemed to think that all he had to do to get rich ight away was to go West, and the rush was something remarkable. People sold out homesteads, where they had lived the best part of their lifetime, for a song, and got out in hot haste. Some of them, who ad money to start on, got along in the West very well, but the majority—wel ney are back here trying to re-establis nemselves. Just now there is another migration, and this time it is to California ad the exodus to California is nearly equa o the former rush to Illinois and Minne sota.
